JCAHO Requirement E.C.02.04.01.03 & E.C.02.04.01.04

The organization identifies appropriate inspection and maintenance strategies for achieving effective, safe, and reliable operation of all equipment on the inventory. The organization defines intervals for inspecting, testing, and maintaining appropriate equipment on the inventory (that is those pieces of equipment on the inventory benefiting from scheduled activities to minimize the clinical and physical risks) that are based on criteria such as manufacture's recommendations, risk levels and current experience."
